“The exchange program was truly an unforgettable journey that reignited my passion for learning. With every event and class, I found myself outside of my comfort zone yet fully engaged. I expanded my knowledge through networking and engaging with local experts from wineries to the United Nations. I also formed a close bond with my Australian peers and locals alike as we went through this experience together.”

“Living in Japan, particularly in the vibrant city of Nagoya, allowed me to explore the rich traditions and modern attractions that the country has to offer. Interacting with local students and fellow exchange participants worldwide opened my eyes to different perspectives and fostered lasting friendships. Over the course of a semester, I had the opportunity to immerse myself in a different culture and educational system, and it was truly transformative.”

DARWIN YEW JIA LE

Bachelor of Business and Commerce

International Exchange Program

Exchanged to Nagoya University of Commerce and Business, Japan

“A semester at the University of Warwick – the best time of my life. I experienced the best education system, met the most diligent lecturers, travelled around Europe, and built valuable life-long friendships. It is mesmerising to expose myself to different cultures, news, and language. Despite our differences, we share the same eagerness and passion to create a greater global community and pave our own paths in the future. As a result of participating in the exchange, I have become a more confident, open-minded, youthful, and empathetic global citizen.”

1 DEGREE, 3 COUNTRIES

You could spend up to two semesters of your degree abroad in different countries, gaining unique perspectives and adding a global dimension to your academic experience – all while paying Monash Malaysia tuition fees¹.

Global Intercampus Program

Spend a semester at one of Australia's most vibrant cities, Melbourne. Melbourne is a dynamic city celebrated for its diverse culture, world-class education, and vibrant arts scene. Voted one of the world's most livable cities, it's an ideal destination for students seeking a rich academic and cultural experience.

International Exchange Program

Study at one of Monash's prestigious partner universities across the globe for a semester or two. Whether in Asia, Europe, or the Americas, you can choose from top universities that match your academic and personal interests.

Did you know?

The International Exchange Program is a popular choice among our students. You'll enjoy exclusive travel grants to support your studies abroad, plus grades earned during your exchange will not count towards your Monash degree – so you can focus on the experience, not just the academics.

Monash Global Campus Intensives (MGCI) in Italy

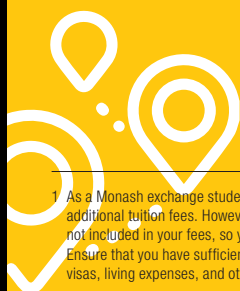

Take Monash units at the Monash University Prato Centre in Italy with intensive study and local support during your winter or summer break. Credits from these units count towards your degree.

Global study tours

Study for one to four weeks in another country or countries, with a Monash academic and a group of like-minded Monash students.

Partner programs

Go for one of our partner universities' short-term programs and accumulate credit toward your Monash degree.

¹ As a Monash exchange student, you won't need to pay any additional tuition fees. However, your living and travel costs are not included in your fees, so you'll need to budget for them. Ensure that you have sufficient funds to cover your return airfare, visas, living expenses, and other necessities.

"It was an experience like no other. I learned to adapt living in a completely different culture, starting off alone but closing it off with many friends from all over the world. This exchange enabled me to discover myself further and gave me the freedom to do what I couldn't back home."

LEE SHI SHI

Bachelor of Business and Commerce

International Exchange Program
Exchanged to Korea University, Korea

"The exchange program has been the best time of my life. I have pushed myself to do what scared me and what I had never done before, including solo travel across multiple countries, community fundraising and an adventurous hitchhike across Europe. I have finished my exchange with a vast new optimism, from experiencing how so many things that I deemed impossible were actually very possible."

TAN KAH HONG

Bachelor of Computer Science

International Exchange Program
Exchanged to University of Sheffield, UK

“I experienced a different culture and a different way of thinking, and this has deepened my passion for learning and discovering new things. I met new peers with different experiences, perspectives and opportunities, and this has made me more culturally aware. Monash has made the transition easy enough for me not to worry about the technicalities of studying in another country and I am grateful.”

PADMA AHBIRAMI MUNISVARAN

Bachelor of Psychological Science

Global Intercampus Program
Exchanged to Monash University, Australia

“My exchange experience in the Netherlands was amazing. I’m amazed at how much I’ve grown as a person outside my comfort zone. The six months during the exchange were the time of my life, I’ve learnt so much about this world and myself. I’ve made friends from almost every region, I’ve been to 14 countries, I’ve tried delicious food and new things.”

ELVEN TEE ZI JIE

Bachelor of Business and Commerce

International Exchange Program
Exchanged to Maastricht University, Netherlands

“Being able to study in two different countries in a year is truly an amazing experience that profoundly shaped my personal growth. This unique opportunity allowed me to immerse in different cultures, educational systems, and an independent way of life. It broadened my perspective in many aspects, plus I made lifelong friends throughout my exchange.”

HIA HUNG XIAN

Bachelor of Computer Science

Global Intercampus Program and International Exchange Program
Exchanged to Monash University, Australia and University of Warwick, UK

“My exchange semester at Monash’s Clayton campus was unforgettable, filled with new adventures and the occasional culture shock. Living on campus helped me connect with a diverse group of people, and navigating a foreign city gave me a sense of independence and enhanced my self-sufficiency. While it was challenging to adapt to a new culture, the experience broadened my horizons, enriched my understanding of different cultures, and created a ton of core memories and friendships that will last a lifetime.”

“I had the opportunity to participate in the Global Discovery Program which was a truly eye-opening journey. Being in New York and meeting accomplished alumni, who are influential leaders in their respective fields, made me realise the vastness of the world. Through the numerous engaging discussions with both the alumni and my fellow scholars, I was able to challenge my own way of thinking and rediscover new aspects of myself. I would say that this program transformed me, and I feel better prepared to embrace the uncertainties that lie ahead as I move forward in life.”

“Within four months, I got to embrace a whole new culture and became accustomed to the mannerisms and the way of living as a local in South Korea. Although I was just an exchange student at Korea University, I really felt like I belonged to a close, tightly knit community because of how inclusive the local students are here especially when it comes to university events.”
